Message from the January 2012 Chairwomen of the Month Committee

Happy New Years and let us start this year with a run down of the many events coming up in 2012.

- First up, we start in January with our fabulous Author's Luncheon at the La Rinconada Country Club on January 25. I hope to see you there with a friend or neighbor. There is still time because the deadline for reservations is January 15, 2012. (See the Author's Luncheon flyer and the details on the front page of this Grapevine issue.)
- February 18 our General Meeting program will be "Focus of Membership." Organized by our Membership VPs, Charlene Bunger and Shirley Cancellieri.
- March 27 is the Tech Trek annual Games Party at the Terraces of Los Gatos. This is our chance to support Tech Trek and raise money to send girls to the Stanford Science and Math camp.
- Lastly, on April 29 will be the Homeless Committee fundraiser at the Summer Winds Nursery on Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road. We will have hors d'oeuvres, wine, a small silent auction and much, much more.

Our annual Holiday Party was a fun, festive and fabulous afternoon. We had 70+ people attend. Special invitations were sent to new members from the past three years. We had at least 15 of those new members attend. We were able to put names and faces together. Lavonne Marafino and Terri Raynaud, the hospitality hostesses, greeted the arriving guests. The delicious appetizers, decadent desserts and lovely wines added just the right touch to the occasion.

Kudos goes to Nancy Anderson, Arleen Pickett, Mary Thygeson, Tina Hubbard, Terri Raynaud and Gail Pedersen for their hard work. A big thanks to Nancy Anderson for hosting the event at her beautifully decorated home.

Within our branch are many people who work hard for the benefit everyone. The branch would dissolve without their work and dedication. Please consider taking on a leadership role to assist and move the branch forward. We urgently need a leader to chair the Nominating Committee and members to serve on that committee. (See the article in the next column on this page.)

See you and your guests at the Author's Luncheon on January 25.

—Geraldine Williams, January Chairwomen of the Month

Chairwomen of the Month – Providing Leadership & Coordination

Seeking a Leader to Chair the Nominating Committee We Urgently Need Your Participation!

Los Gatos-Saratoga AAUW Leaders have been known for their forward thinking and creative direction. We need you to volunteer to chair the Nominating Committee or to serve on that committee.

Lavonne Marafino has been the chair of the Nominating Committee for three of the past four years. (She took a year off to be President.) It is time for someone else to step into this role.

The committee seeks quality leaders to serve the branch. Our branch leaders find that by serving they develop and polish their abilities to lead, and they grow and thrive as leaders.

Let us know if you can be the Nominating Committee chair or can serve on the committee.

—Contact Lavonne Marafino (lnmarafino@att.net; 408-867-1964) for more information or if you are interested in being the Nominating Committee chair or a committee member. Also we want to hear from you if you know a member who is a leader and can serve as an elected officer for next year.

About the Books Written by this Year's Authors

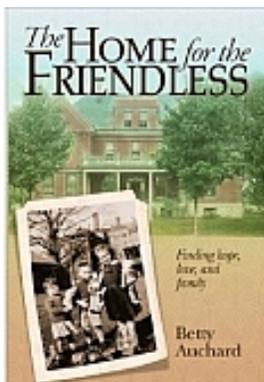

Join Us at the Author's Luncheon on January 25.

The Home for the Friendless: Finding Hope, Love, and Family, by Betty Auchard. Auchard has perspective and joy when she talks about her childhood. "We had so much fun with no money," Auchard said. "We made up games, and we would make forts out of bushes or boxes or a few boards we found. We didn't realize it at the time, but we were having a blast, and it was all free."

Auchard grew up in Iowa as the oldest of three siblings, with parents who weren't always the model of familial stability. Breaking up and reuniting multiple times over the years, Auchard's parents often placed them with extended family members, and, for a time, the children were left at the Home for the Friendless, an orphanage in Cedar Rapids.

"My parents worked really hard at it," Auchard said, "but they just couldn't keep it together. In retrospect, my mother was very gifted, but probably bipolar. There were times I was really bummed out because it was hard to live the way we lived."

Auchard's memoir is a large collection of short stories, each with a memory. They are sometimes poignant and painful, such as the day Bobby's birthday cake was destroyed by their temperamental mother. Others are humorous, like the day Betty learned the F-word from a bunch of other orphanage kids. Excerpt from a book review by Laura Millsaps.

For the Love of Aimee: A Memoir by Julie Matsushima. The story of a grandmother's devotion, and the courage and faith it took to help her granddaughter—diagnosed with irreparable brain damage from birth—beat the odds.

Aimee and her twin sister were the first grandchildren born to Julie Matsushima, but the family's joy at the birth quickly turned to panic when Aimee was diagnosed with irreparable brain damage.

For the Love of Aimee invites you to share in the disappointments, challenges, and amazing achievements Aimee and Julie experience as this grandmother and granddaughter embark on a journey to find a breakthrough for Aimee. As they travel around the world, seeking treatment and meeting many other families with children with disabilities, Aimee's enthusiasm, confidence, sense of humor, and positivity profoundly affected all who witness—in disbelief—her astounding accomplishments.

This incredible book will move and inspire you, particularly if your life has been touched by a child with special needs. Aimee's extraordinary story shows that, without a doubt, supportive and involved parents and grandparents make every difference in the lives of children with disabilities. Excerpt from a book review.

The Chinese Dream by Helen Wang. The yin and yang gulf between the fierce individualism of the typical American and the "collective interest" of the average Chinese is so wide that the best we can hope for is a harmonious understanding of just how very different we are. This is a profound book—profoundly uplifting and profoundly troubling.

The Chinese Dream is written on three levels. First is a recitation of the economic and urban population growth of the new China, and it is staggering.

The second level is Wang's many interviews with Chinese entrepreneurs, emerging market leaders. There is Jack Ma, the owner of Google's Chinese competitor, Alibaba (whose IPO on the Hong Kong exchange rang up $1.5 billion).

The third level is Helen Wang herself, with personal stories of her voluntary nomadic life half in America and half in the Middle Kingdom, and her attempts to bring them into harmonic convergence, with varying degrees of success.

The whole point of Wang's book—that a burgeoning middle class in China is inevitable is also classic yin and yang. No one can deny that the American dream of a car, a home, and a good education for the children should not be withheld from middle class Chinese. Excerpt from a reviewed by Jack Shakely.

There are Voting Changes for 2012

Every member of AAUW CA will have the opportunity to vote in the 2012 elections. We will not vote at the AAUW CA convention.

Voting will be handled by VoteNow, a private consulting firm that offers voting services for professional organizations. Voting will take place online. You may request a paper ballot if you choose to vote by mail

In early May, you will receive an email from Vote-Now with an access code and a link to the voting site. If you do not have email, or the message sent to you “bounces,” you will receive a postcard by first class mail.

It is very important to make sure your contact information, including email address, is current in the AAUW national database.

–AAUW CA Elections Committee

Can you help at the AAUW-CA Convention this April?

The California AAUW Convention will be held in our own backyard at the Santa Clara Marriott on the weekend of April 14 and 15. The Santa Clara County Interbranch Council (IBC) needs several volunteers to help during the convention. Virginia Beck of the San Jose branch is chair of the Local Arrangements Committee and is getting more details about the specific jobs that need to be filled, such as registration area and workshop assistance, along with the times that volunteers will be needed.

This is a great opportunity for training and networking with other AAUW members from around the state. Volunteers pay a reduced registration fee which includes the many workshops and discussions offered during the convention. (Meals will be an additional cost.)

Up to now voting for statewide leadership positions, resolutions and the Public Policy Program was only done at the convention with each branch having a number of votes proportionate to its membership. Now voting will take place after the convention and will be “One Member, One Vote” as you may have read in your fall California Perspective newsletter. Members with email will receive a message with an access code and a link to the voting site, while members with no email address on file will receive a letter in the mail. Every member can vote online or by using a paper mail-in ballot.

If you can help at the convention, or if you just want to learn more about what’s required, please give me a call at (408) 866-4234 or email me at vturner@sbcglobal.net.

Local Homeless Situation in Santa Clara County

Happy New Year Everyone,

Lets see - it is now 2012 - that number happens to be 108 less than the number of homeless children in San Francisco.

As we start the year here are some interesting facts picked from the Santa Clara County 2011 Employment Services Report.

Currently, 37,602 individuals (singles, families) receive CalWORKS assistance. As a condition for receiving cash aid, all adults must participate in welfare-to-work activities through Employment Services. CalWORKS regulations require single-parent families to engage in 32 hours of activities each week and two-parent families to participate in 35 hours. (There are some exemptions depending on family situation).

We found two parts of the report unusually interesting. The Teen Parent Program (teen childbearing costs taxpayers nationally over $9 billion each year – yes, that was with a “B”). Santa Clara County served over 500 participants in this program achieving a 79% graduation rate. However, case managers have noticed that a distressing number of clients under the age of 16 years is growing.

The other section of interest was the Refugee Program. For the last federal fiscal year California received 15% of the new arrivals. The pie chart shows the breakdown of countries as:

Iran - 45.9%
Iraq - 24.5%
Burma - 9.4%
Eritrea - 8.2%
Asia - 7.5%
Africa - 4.4%

Contrary to the San Jose Mercury News article on 12/07/2011, that stated that the South Bay job market grew by 3.2%. The County report show the 2010-2011 unemployment rate persists at 10%, which is above the national average, while unskilled and limited language unemployment remains higher still. These few jobs that are available tend to require professional training, new accreditation, experience, and communication skills - qualifications that many refugees (and teen parents) lack or have difficulty obtaining quickly.

So time to push up our sleeves and get to work. Anyone interested in attending our meetings or needing further information - please contact Nancy Anderson, at 408-867-4383, or by email at Dander2567@aol.com

Help Keep Access to Birth Control Available to All Women

It's a fact that nearly every sexually active American woman will use some form of birth control in her life. Whether they use it to prevent pregnancy or whether they're among the 1.5 million women who are prescribed birth control for other medical needs, contraceptives are a real and critical part of women's reproductive health.

Incredibly, some powerful opponents of women's health want to make it harder for you and other American women to access birth control and other contraceptives.

Here are the basics: A few months ago, AAUW cheered the Department of Health and Human Services' recommendation that new insurance plans cover women's preventive health care without copay. But right away, opponents started undermining this decision with exemptions for certain religiously affiliated employers. This exemption is an obvious intrusion on the patient-doctor relationship, and also discriminates against women on the basis of sex.

So we need YOU to raise your voices for the millions of women who work for religiously affiliated schools, hospitals, charities and nonprofits — AND their dependents — and ask the Obama administration to oppose these attempts.

Call right now and tell the White House: Oppose attempts to exempt employers from covering women's preventive care — all women should have coverage of contraception without copays or cost-sharing.

Sexual Assault Victims in Military

Senate Approves a Bill Offering Greater Protections for Sexual Assault Victims in Military

The Senate approved a bill that will grant victims of sexual assault in the military greater legal protections. Authored by John Kerry (D-MA), the Senate bill mirrors legislation that was passed in the House earlier this year. It provides victims of sexual assault in the military the right to legal counsel, confidentiality, and the opportunity to transfer to another base. Only 8 percent of military sexual assault cases end in prosecution, yet one in three women service members reported experiencing "some form of sexual trauma" during their service.

AAUW strongly believes that all people deserve a safe, welcoming, and harassment-free work environment.

Branch Voted to Support S.B. 810 – California Universal Health Care Act

At its October 4 meeting, the Los Gatos-Saratoga Board voted unanimously to support Mark Leno's S.B. 810, the California Universal Health Care Act, which would be similar to Medicare for everybody. Over 170 other organizations have endorsed the bill, including AAUW of California, Goleta Valley, Pasadena, and Santa Maria.

Summary of S.B. 810

A bill to establish universal healthcare through publicly financed administration was authored by former State Senator Sheila Kuehl as Senate Bill S.B. 840. This was the first single payer bill that a state legislature ever sent to a governor in our nation's history. In fact, S.B. 840 was passed by the California Senate and Assembly twice, in 2006 and in 2008. However, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger vetoed the bill both times.

Senator Kuehl was termed out in 2008. In 2009, Senator Mark Leno introduced the same bill, which was re-numbered as S.B. 810, and it was recently reintroduced as S.B. 810 in February 2011.

A copy of S.B. 810 is available for download on Mark Leno's website. Also available is a very informative comprehensive Fact Sheet.

Great Decisions 2012 Begins February 2

Great Decisions 2012 Coordinator Rosalie Price reports that a total of 62 persons have signed up to participate in this year's local Great Decisions program. Forty-two of those have elected to participate in Group One which will meet in the Saratoga Area Senior Coordinating Council's modular classrooms. (This is the same location that Group One has met in past years.) Also, as in the past, the twenty participants who have elected to participate with Group Two will hold their meetings at the Saratoga Retirement Center. Members of Group One only will receive their course materials at an organizing meeting in the SASCC modular classrooms at 1:00 pm on Thursday, January 26, 2012. At that January 26th "Group-One-Only" meeting volunteers will be identified to serve as individual topic leaders.

The two separate groups will then meet for the remainder of the 2012 season's program as follows: (Group One) eight bi-weekly sessions held on the first and third Thursdays of each month from 1:00 to 3:00 pm in SASCC's Modular Classrooms; and, (Group Two) weekly sessions for eight consecutive weeks from 2:00 to 4:00 pm at the SRC. The first regular session for each group will begin on February 2, 2012.

—Program leaders are Al and Anne Stewart who will also lead Group One. Program coordinator is Rosalie Price who will be lead Group Two. John Price does the program's financial accounting.

Advantages of SB 810

Security - Everyone is covered. No one will ever lose coverage for any reason. Coverage is based on residency, not employment.

Choice - Everyone can choose their doctors and other providers. Under this single payer plan, health care delivery is in the private sector and is not a socialist system.

Comprehensive Benefits - Everyone has full benefits that include prescription drug coverage and mental health care.

High Quality - Doctors and patients, not administrators, make medical decisions. Hospitals can afford safe staffing levels for registered nurses. Primary and preventive care are priorities.

Efficient Administration - Huge savings result from removing insurance companies from health care. Provider and patient paper work is slashed.

Fair Cost Sharing - Employers and employees pay a modest health care premium, which is less than most pay now.

Fair Reimbursement - Providers receive fair and full compensation for their services.

Cost Controls - Health care inflation is controlled by efficient administration, global health care budgets, bulk purchases of drugs and durable medical equipment, coordination of capital expenditures, and linkage to growth of the State Gross Domestic Product.

More Cuts Planned for Osteoporosis Testing

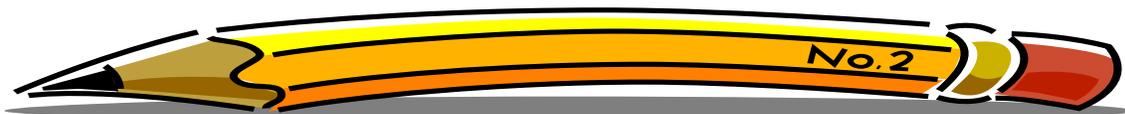

Medicare reimbursement rates for osteoporosis testing will continue to decline without congressional action. A National Osteoporosis Foundation study released this week found that reimbursement dropped 56 percent from 2007 to 2010 for tests done in physicians' offices. In addition, testing has stagnated in recent years after a decade of growth. A bipartisan bill, Preservation of Access to Osteoporosis Testing for Medicare Beneficiaries Act (S. 1096/H.R. 2020), would extend the minimum payment for osteoporosis tests through 2013.

Taken By Mistake – Coat at Holiday Party

Did you mistakenly take the wrong woman's coat at the Holiday Party?

Both coats were hanging in the hall closet. A 3/4 length bright blue coat with brass buttons was taken for a similar coat. The coat that was left was a Darker blue and more tailored coat.

Please contact Bernie Fawley to arrange the exchange of coats, 408-567-0815. Thank you.
